The election will be held. No candidate will receive a majority of the votes.
The new Congress will declare "no return."

WILBURN'S HOPE

Lawyer Pleads to Save Neck of Slayer--Verdict of Jury Near at Hand.

GRAYS, Oct. 25.--Nick Wilburn, confessed slayer of James King, a wealthy Jones County farmer, last December, has but a few hours to wait until he knows whether or not he is to hang to serve a life sentence or a limited prison term. His attorneys have no hope for an acquittal, and those who have followed the trial that has been in progress since Thursday see no likelihood of his going free.

A life sentence does not seem improbable, since the defense from the outset has stressed the claim that Wilburn was under the influence of Mrs. Katherine King, his victim's wife, when he shot King down in the woods near his home. This was the latest of the argument before Friday afternoon by John R. Cooper, chief counsel for Wilburn, and concluded this morning. Mr. Cooper spoke until a o'clock Friday, when he was forced to stop from exhaustion.

TIME OF SLAYING AS SHOWN BY EVIDENCE NOT POSSIBLE, IS CHARGED

Reuben Arnold, for the Frank defense introduced his address when he resumed the fight for a new Frank trial Saturday, by a number of legal citations showing the discretion and duty of a judge to grant a new trial in the event that there exists any vestige of doubt as to the warrant for the jury's finding or that it is apparent that the verdict was reached through some possible error, mistake or from some bias or feeling.

From this Arnold argued that no course was left open for Judge Roun but to grant a new trial.

"In every case where your honor refuses a new trial," the lawyer said, "he approves the verdict. If your honor refuses a new trial we are forever shut off from entering into the facts of the case. All that we can do is to argue on some error that was committed in the course of the trial."

"If this case is as strong as the Solicitor represents, if it is founded on rock bottom, if it is a genuine case, and not a frame-up, if it is based on fact and not on perjury, then it surely can stand a new trial."

That a change of venue will be demanded in the event a new trial is granted was made evident by Attorney Arnold's contention that no harm could result from a new trial "where the circumstances are better and where the chance for a just trial is better."

Returning to the theme of "mob spirit" which he discussed at length Friday, Attorney Arnold said:

"You came to that trial with your minds preoccupied. Had this trial been a new proposition and had the jurors and spectators come with open minds, I doubt if much time would have been taken in finding a verdict of self guilt."

"What Case Hinges on Conley?"

"The whole case stands or falls on Conley's story. The negro declared that Frank asked him on Friday night to go to the street car and wait for him on Saturday. But there was no evidence that he saw Frank Phelan on Saturday night or Sunday. It was more natural to suppose that he would come to the street car on Saturday night, but there was no evidence that Frank had an appointment with any other woman on that date. So Conley's story of being asked to come and wait for Frank on Saturday night was a matter of fact he was planning to go to the hall room, was the first statement. Conley tried to make us believe he had an appointment to wait for Frank when there was no one to wait for."

"After telling one story in which he stated that he was in the hall room, Conley was finally brought around to admit he was there. He had heard long before he was being asked to go to the hall room, was the first statement. Conley tried to make us believe he had an appointment to wait for Frank when there was no one to wait for."

MAISON, Oct. 25.—All hope has been abandoned for the life of Judge Speer and his death is expected within the next 24 hours. All of his relatives have been summoned to his bedside. He has not only been unconscious for two days and unable to take any nourishment for more than 72 hours, but paralysis has set in.

Although specialists have been engaged from Baltimore and other cities and are now on the way to Mount Airy, his death is regarded by only a question of hours. His daughter, Mrs. A. H. Hayward, left here today for Mount Airy.

Judge Speer suffered an attack of multiple sclerosis weeks ago, which prostrated him, and his condition has become complicated by reason of gall stones. An operation had been planned as soon as he gained sufficient strength to bear the shock.

Only last Sunday Judge Speer declared that he would attend the investigation of his judicial conduct by the House committee in Marion next month, even if he had to come here in a cot.

Illness Traced to Probe.
The illness of Judge Speer can be traced, at least indirectly, to the attack made on his administration of the office as judge of the United States Court for the Southern District of Georgia, resulting in a Congressional investigation being ordered by the House. The investigating committee, consisting of Congressman Webb, Floyd and Volstead, has been called to convene in Washington on next Saturday, November 1, to hear the testimony of Judge Speer and on November 10 to begin hearings in Georgia at Macon, Savannah, Augusta and Albany—the four cities where the worst acts.

Twenty names are contained in the charges against Judge Speer, filed with the House by Congressman Clayton, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. He is accused of appointing his son-in-law, A. H. Hayward, to lucrative court assignments; of favoring friends in awarding contracts; of misappropriation of public service; abuse of authority of his office; violation of the jury law; and other unlawful and improper acts.

Huff Case Figures.
The charges against Judge Speer are largely the result of the attack made on him by Colonel William A. Huff, whose estate has been in the hands of the court under Judge Speer's jurisdiction for more than a decade. Colonel Huff carried his complaint to members of Congress and the Department of Justice. Special agents were sent to Georgia, who investigated his financial record for many years back. After their report was made to Washington the move for a Congressional investigation took place.

HUSBAND SAYS
'STARBOARDER'
RUINED HOME

Tells Court He Stood Wife's Attention to Another Man Until Ordered Away.

Even the forbearance of a meek, mild-mannered "forgiving" husband reaches its limit when his wife's "starboarder" attempts to completely cheer him of his husbandly authority and snuff him from his own home, according to John Cook of No. 334 East Hunter street, an employee of the Light and Power Company.

Cook told Recorder Broyles Saturday morning that he had silently chafed at the behavior of his wife, Mrs. E. A. Martin, for some time, but when he saw her with another man in his home, he decided to act.

He couldn't stand it any longer, he said, when the "starboarder" flung with the preference he was receiving from Mrs. Cook, ordered him from his own home and demanded to know what he had done with his wife's man.

Wife Denies Charges.
"This was too much, Judge," exclaimed the husband. "When he asked me what I had done with my wife's man, and told me to get out of my own home, or else he would knock me down, I decided to appeal to the court for protection. I don't think I could be expected to stand everything."

Martin and Mrs. Laddie Cook, the wife, against whom the husband had cases made because of the "humiliation," stood close by as Cook related his story.

"Judge Broyles, that's not true, there's not a word of it," cried Mrs. Cook indignantly. "I told Mr. Cook that I didn't want to see him in my house."

"Why don't you put this man Martin out of your house?" suggested the court. "If you don't, I will have to do it for you."

Lawyer Pleads to Save Neck of
Slayer—Verdict of Jury
Near at Hand.

GRATS, Oct. 25.—Nick Wilburn, confessed slayer of James King, a wealthy Jones County farmer, last December, has but a few hours to wait until he knows whether or not he is to have a life sentence or a limited prison term. His attorneys have no hope for an acquittal, and those who have followed the trial that has been in progress since Thursday see no likelihood of his going free.

May Get Life Term.
A life sentence does not seem improbable, since the defense from the outset has stressed the claim that Wilburn was under the influence of Mrs. Katherine King, his victim's wife, when he shot King down in the woods near his home.

The case was given to the jury at noon to-day, following a lengthy charge by Judge J. R. Park, the presiding judge. The jury is expected to return a verdict late in the afternoon.

Woman's Trial Monday.
Interest in the Wilburn verdict is no greater than that in the outcome of the trial of Mrs. King, which begins Monday morning, provided, of course, the Wilburn case is disposed of this afternoon, and there are no appeals pending in prospect to prevent this.

On the eve of her own trial, Mrs. King, in the jail here, has broken down, and with tears, made frantic appeals against Wilburn's death, that she has ever known.

She has pleaded for mercy, and has begged for a reprieve, but to no avail. She has been told that she has no part in a plot to take her husband's life, and has been told to save him from Wilburn's vengeance by trying to persuade her husband to move away from Jones County.

They Were a Pack of Wolves
Thirsting for Blood, Frank Lawyer Tells Court.

His language unimpaired in bitterness as he progressed, Reuben R. Arnold took up again Saturday afternoon the argument in behalf of a new trial for Leo M. Frank, on which he had been engaged since the middle of the afternoon Friday at the hearing in the State Capital.

His reasons and narration of the facts of the case repeatedly were illumined by yzabes of wrathful denunciation of the manner in which the case against Frank had been conducted by Solicitor General Dorsey, and of the "howling, vicious crowd" which he represented as crying like ravening wolves for the life of the defendant.

"All the Solicitor had to do," he shouted, "was to pour blood down their throats and they were satisfied."

He charged Dorsey with playing to the grandstand, with corrupting and swamping the evidence so as to draw the most ridiculous and fantastic conclusions with which to gull the jurors, and with being a party to the gigantic conspiracy to send an innocent man to the gibbet.

"The jury," he observed, "was perfectly willing to swallow anything—the more improbable and grotesque, the better. No evidence was worth a haub before that scowling, vicious mob. They were pack of wolves thirsting for blood."

Says Dorsey Misrepresented.
The Solicitor, he asserted, had permitted himself to state as facts things which were not in the record and had commented on them in his argument, distorting and misrepresenting and misinterpreting circumstances in a manner inexcusable for one who was seeking to assist in the administration of justice.

"Did you ever hear of a case," Arnold asked, "where so many outside things entered to damn a man? The Solicitor was willing to use any means, no matter how unfair, to convict this man. Russia isn't much worse than this. The Solicitor was a party to the injustice which was forced on Minnie McKnight. Illegal methods were used to get this hysterical woman to agree to the horrible story her husband had fixed up. And this was after the Solicitor already had one affidavit from her in which she denied every detail of that fabrication of her husband's."

"The Solicitor," he defiantly admitted that he did it and was proud of it. But he and the detectives committed a crime against her so great that if she had taken a pistol and killed every one of them, manslaughter would have been the worst charge that could have been lodged against her.

"Why, before some juror, a tramp has a better chance of justice than a man of moderate means and some respectable reputation. It has come to a pass that a man of means is worse off in a court of justice than a bum and a tramp, so fearful are jurors of public opinion."

by him as rapidly as they were made. The defense was not allowed to slip. The disputed reasons were approved after slight revision.

Object to Word "Employed"

For nearly an hour the attorneys wrangled over the use of the word "employed" in one of the reasons. The defense held that the court had erred in permitting the use of the word. The defense held that the testimony of Detective Black that Frank had employed counsel the Monday morning after the crime.

Dorsey objected to the wording, saying that there was nothing in the record to warrant the use of "employed." After this one word had been discussed for an hour, the court decided to proceed as if the word was a difference over an extremely vital point, a compromise was reached by revising the paragraph of Black's evidence to read that Frank "had counsel the Monday morning after the murder."

J. W. Coleman, stepfather of the murdered Mary Phagan, was an interested spectator as part of the morning session. He was on hand when the hearing opened, and remained listening intently to the debate of opposing counsel until the middle of the forenoon.

Starnes and Black Present

Detectives Starnes and Black, who were assigned to Solicitor Dorsey to work under his direction on the investigation into the Phagan murder mystery, have been in constant attendance since the hearing began Wednesday.

Frank's lawyers sprang a surprise in the last of their long string of reasons, holding that by the State's theory Jim Conley was an accomplice and that his testimony therefore could not be accepted except as corroborated by the circumstances or by another witness. The solicitor remarked that he had not considered this proposition, but would be prepared to talk on it later in the hearing.

The reason charged that the court erred in not instructing the jury that if they believed from the evidence that Conley watched for Frank at the pencil factory and that his purpose in watching was to protect Frank in the commission of acts which constitute a felony in the State of Georgia, then Conley, as to any alleged murder committed in the progress of any such attempt to commit the acts that were described by the facts and circumstances or by another witness.

The announcement that the tempo of the closing days of the trial was such that grave fears were entertained for the safety of Frank was one of the interesting disclosures of the hearing. Attorney Luther Ross ear, chief of counsel for Frank, asserted that they would have "taken the defendant alive" if he had gone out among them on the day the verdict was rendered, particularly if an acquittal had been brought in.

Take Advantage of Absence

Solicitor Dorsey contended that the defense had waited the presence of Frank in the courtroom at the time the verdict was rendered and now were taking advantage of it to claim that their client would have been mobbed or lynched had he been there, when, as a matter of fact, there was no way of proving that Frank might have received not even a hostile demonstration.

A warm dispute arose over the contention, during which it developed that the court was adjourned in the midst of Dorsey's concluding argument Saturday noon to permit the intense feeling to subside, and that later Frank's presence at the rendering of the verdict was waived by its attorneys at the suggestion of Judge Ross himself. Judge Ross had been addressed by the editors of the three Atlanta newspapers, militia officials and the chief of the police department, and urged, it was claimed, to take every precaution for the safeguarding of the prisoner, against whom there was unmistakably hostile sentiment.

The hostile sentiment against Frank was emphasized in many of the reasons advanced for a new trial. The most of them Judge Ross certified as they were submitted. The trial was taken from its outset, and note made of every outbreak inside and outside the courtroom. The outcries received by Solicitor Dorsey were described minutely, and the occasions of applause and cheering inside the courtroom when Dorsey scored a point were stressed repeatedly.

Crowd Gets Signal

Attention also was called to the jeers and derisive laughter that met many of the arguments of Frank's lawyers. From first to last, Frank's counsel contended, it was most evident that the defendant was not obtaining the fair and impartial trial guaranteed by law. The jury was coerced into giving a verdict of guilty and would have dared give no other verdict, according to his contention.

The climax, according to the reasons accompanying the motion for a new trial, came when the verdict was rendered. Apprehensive of the militia, the crowd, Judge Ross had cleared the courtroom before the jury entered to submit their verdict. While the verdict was being rendered the crowd was signaled that Frank had been declared guilty, and an instantaneous shout went up from the large concourse of persons outside the courtroom, raising a disturbance so great, Judge Ross testified, that he had some difficulty in hearing the polling of the jury.

A crowd of shouting, cheering men met Frank as he came toward his office, members of the throng caught him up and, the lawyers commented, was an impressive illustration of the temper of the crowd about the courthouse.

Judge Ross's charge to the jury was carefully reviewed and several points in it quoted to emphasize grounds for a new trial. The court was represented to be in error for failing to charge the jury as to the weight that should be given the testimony of Conley, who confessed on the stand that he several times previously had sworn falsely. The judge was accused of leaving the credibility of witnesses of this sort entirely to the jury.

Wrong Conclusions Drawn

The court also was said to be in error because he had permitted Solicitor Dorsey and Attorney Frank Hooper in their arguments to draw unwarranted conclusions, after the conclusions had been objected to by Ross and Arnold. One of the instances cited was Hooper's charge that the failure of the defense to cross-examine the girl witnesses put on the stand by the State was a tacit admission that Frank was guilty of immoral acts and practices to which the witnesses had alluded broadly.

A similar argument was made by Solicitor Hooper, who maintained that because the defendant's wife failed to visit him for some time after he was taken to the Tower she had the consciousness of the guilt in her heart. Arnold, in speaking in defense of the defense, repeated the impression contained in the Solicitor's declaration that "I wouldn't be surprised if the family physicians of some of you had been called in to testify on the stand, the implication being that Frank had been sexually diseased."

Warrant for Fisher Received From Dalton

A warrant for Ira W. Fisher, the "masterful witness" in the Frank case, charging murder, was received at the Sheriff's office Friday morning from the authorities of Dalton.

In addition to the warrant, request was made that the authorities at Dalton be notified immediately when the Atlanta authorities are through with Fisher.

According to a statement Friday morning of J. C. Bixler, the man accused by Fisher, the criminal first charge sworn out against Fisher probably will be withdrawn. The hearing was set for Saturday before Justice Pickett, but this probably will be cancelled so that the Dalton authorities may have the custody of Fisher immediately. Chief Lawford declared Fisher was as soon as in favor of turning Fisher over to the Whitefield authorities.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 31.—A new method of typhoid vaccination is announced by Dr. Frederick Purser, day professor of pathology at the State University. 'DECEIVED' ON STANDING OF HUSBAND, WIFE SUES

Mrs. J. F. Mayer, formerly Miss Lullie Simmons.

False representations made by her husband before the wedding that he was a person of high social standing, claims apparently borne out by his fitness and neatness in dress and good deportment, are cited as reasons for the divorce suit filed in the Superior Court Friday by youthful Mrs. Lullie J. Mayer, nee Simmons, nee J. F. Mayer, of Kansas City, Mo. Their marriage followed an elopement romance.

"He was neat and tidy in his dress," the petitioner states, "and depicted himself accordingly, and represented himself to be a person of high social standing."

Later, however, the petitioner alleges, she found that his character was not what he made a practice of depicting in his business days.

CHIVALRY IS DEAD WITHOUT VOTE, SAYS JONES

Labor Editor and Other Speakers Boost Women's Suffrage at Big Meeting.

Advocates of equal suffrage were talking Saturday morning about the remarkable address made by Jones at the meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage Association at the Hotel Ansley.

Mr. Jones asserted that the "Southern chivalry" was dead, when it presented giving up a vote in a woman in a crowded street, or relieving the hal in an elevator, and yet denied to woman the right of the ballot.

Away back in 1837, Mr. Jones said, "the labor party incorporated in national platform a plank standing for the equal rights of women. From that day to this the Federation of Labor has stood firmly for the movement looking to equal suffrage."

Mr. Jones referred specifically to "million and a quarter of industrial women in America, who actually need the ballot." They need it, he said, to protect their own welfare, to obtain better conditions, better wages, better working hours. He closed with the prediction that equal suffrage soon would be enjoyed by the women of Georgia.

The Rev. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and recently a citizen of the Golden State, read the adoption of equal suffrage. There are better laws on the books here than ever before," he asserted. "There is the law limiting the working hours of women to eight hours a day, the abolition of the vice and brothels of the big cities—all that important is due to the influence of the women of California, expressed by the 'Yellow Ribbon' movement."

The Rev. J. Wade Conklin referred to the "Yellow Ribbon" movement. The women of Georgia, he said, are the strongest argument for equal suffrage. The Rev. Fred A. Line, in an interesting talk, spoke of the work accomplished in Kansas since the State voted for equal suffrage. Mrs. Katherine Brown, secretary of the Georgia Equal Suffrage Association, read a long list of names of women members, and Mrs. Mary Anderson, president of the State Suffrage Association, commended the interest for the work shown locally. More than 100 were present.

AD MEN TAKE UP FIGHT FOR MOYER

Personal Letter Says Real Conditions in Prison Are Not as Hawthorne Says.

Declaring that "cleanliness, the splendid system and the cheerfulness of the prisoners" in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary "is noticeable even in a hurried inspection," the Atlanta Ad Men's Club has written a personal letter to Warden William H. Moyer in which attention is taken to the charges of mistreatment and inhuman treatment recently made against the prison authorities by Julian Hawthorne, Dr. W. J. Morgan and others.

The letter is signed by President E. H. Goodrich and all the other officers of the club, and is a commendable effort to set the record straight. It is a letter of 1,000 words, and is a most interesting and valuable contribution to the discussion of the prison problem.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

There seems to be no likelihood whatever that William Schley Howard, Congressman from the Fifth District, will have opposition for reelection next year.

Mr. Howard is now serving his second term in Congress, and apparently his services have proven to be entirely acceptable to the constituents. He is, indeed, a most popular man.

Mr. Howard while one of the younger men in the National House, is very popular with the people. He is a man of great energy and ability, and is a most successful politician.

Girls Change Hair Style So as to Hear

JAMAICA, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Following the advice of their practical that the girls in the Jamaica high school should wear their hair in a single style, so that they can hear their teachers, all girls in the school have changed their style of hair.

As Mr. Hughes himself will be a candidate for reelection, however, that naturally brings on more talk.

Some twenty-four Georgia women have been elected to the National House of Representatives, and are now in session in Washington.

It is not at all likely that this will occasion any hard feeling among the friends and subscribers of the Georgia. Most of these papers are well worth two or three times the usual subscription asked, and it is really surprising that the almost universal rate at present—$1 per annum—is so low.

Cloud-Stanfor Co. TO REORGANIZE

Entire stock to be sold at greatly reduced prices, beginning Monday, morning at 9 o'clock

THE BUSINESS OF Cloud-Stanford Co., organized in 1908, has grown and thrived for five and a half years.

We have built a business during this time which we can refer to with pride, for we doubt that any store has the support of a more representative clientele than we. The prestige we have gained and the loyalty of our patrons are among our most enjoyable recollections.

Interests which heretofore have been represented in this business are to be altered somewhat to further the progress and add to the capital of this institution.

New ideas are to be injected. New lines are to be added. Certain policies which, in the main, have been successful, but which require changing to meet new conditions, are to be incorporated.

The business must be expanded to cope with the new conditions which have come about in the past five years.

In order to meet these new conditions it is necessary for us to convert our entire stock into cash immediately.

To clear out a stock completely requires drastic price-cutting, and notwithstanding the natural loss of profits in so doing, we have concluded to name prices so very low on Clothing, Hats and Furnishings that this sale will be irresistible.

One of the primary reasons for inaugurating a sale as outlined above is for the purpose of raising cash. As a matter of fact, raising funds is imperative, but in so doing we wish to avoid undue annoyance to our former loyal charge customers, and in lieu of placing the sale on a strictly cash basis, we will continue to charge goods to those who have formerly had active charge accounts with us on the following basis: NO CHARGES TO BE CARRIED ON THE BOOKS FOR MORE THAN THIRTY DAYS during this sale.

This rule will be strictly adhered to on our part and we trust will be given equal support by our customers.

The changes which are to be made in the conduct of business will in no way affect the future character of this Shop or its personnel.

The contemplated changes only refer to an enlargement and a betterment of conditions generally.

We want the continued support of those who have been instrumental in placing the name of Cloud-Stanford Co. in the forefront with the progressive Men's Stores of this City.

A further announcement with price quotations will be made in all the local Sunday newspapers, and we trust everyone will avail themselves of the unusual offerings which are to be made on the highest class wearables obtainable.

TEXT BOOK BIDS OPENED; AWARD WITHHELD

Committeemen to Make Recommendations to Full Commission on November 25.

The State Board of Education this afternoon opened bids for the purchase of new text books for the next five years. All members of both commissions are present.

Before calling the sub-commission session, the Text Book Commission opened thirty-eight bids from various publishing houses, proposing various lines of new books for immediate awards. Each bid was accompanied by a certified check for $500, as evidence of good faith.

An action was taken on any bid in the entire matter of new books temporarily placed in the hands of the sub-commission, the members of which are required to report to the full commission not later than November 25, at which time the Text Book Commission will be in session.

The members of the sub-commission will prepare their various recommendations immediately, but they are not to publish them until after the November 7, at which time the members wish to have the remainder of the time to inspect carefully the hundreds of new books offered.

The impression is that there will be no particular changes. If there are any at all, pending the report of the selecting investigating committee, at summer, but that the recommendations of the Governor and the Superintendent of Schools that the matter be left temporarily to stand will be adopted.

That matter will not be determined, however, until the Text Book Commission meets on November 25.

FRIENDS TO DINE JUDGE NEWMAN, WHO IS 70

Federal Jurist Yields to Request to Continue on the Bench Indefinitely.

So far as is known, no guests will be invited to the dinner which will be held at the home of Judge William T. Newman this evening to celebrate his seventieth birthday.

But there will be 200 of his friends there, and the flickering light of all the well-wishing candles may easily be reflected in the warm and radiant smile of friendship and good will.

The dinner is Judge Newman's own idea. He is a bachelor, and even if he had a wife.

The big birthday dinner planned by so many friends of Judge Newman commemorates not only the jurist's achievement of the seventieth birthday, but also an unusually long and successful career on the Federal bench.

Judge Newman has served for more than 20 years. Recently he became entitled, under the Federal provisions, to retire from the bench on full pay, but at the urgent request of many of the lawyers practicing in the United States District Court where he has presided, supplemented by the similar request of a great number of citizens of the district, he decided to continue in the service.

At the dinner, Saturday night, Albert Howell is to act as toastmaster; the first toast of the evening being, of course, for the President of the United States.

Other toasts will be responded to, as follows:

Mr. Howell, Chief Justice of the United States; Mr. J. H. Lusk, Chief Justice of the United States; Mr. J. H. Lusk, Chief Justice of the United States; Mr. J. H. Lusk, Chief Justice of the United States.

U. S. Rescuers Into Mine, Fatal to 261. As Volunteers Quit

DAWSON, N. MEX., Oct. 25.—In the depths of shaft No. 2, of the Big Canon Company's coal mine, here today Government rescuers braved black damp and danger from falling walls again, in an effort to bring to the surface the remaining 261 bodies of victims of last Wednesday's explosion. Seventy-three bodies had been brought to the shaft entrance today, only 23 of the 261 men in the mine at the time were found alive in the cavern.

Volunteer rescuers who have been working in shifts of fifteen or twenty, during the last few days, have been forced into the mine again by the explosion, refused to enter the mine today. The bodies of the two rescuers who were caught by the falling shale and rock yesterday were brought to the surface by the Federal rescuers.

The most of the bodies brought to the surface today were badly burned and mangled that identification was impossible.

P. A. Watson, of Chicago, representing the Purified Petroleum Products Company of Kansas City, an enterprise capitalized at $100,000 which purifies crude kerosene and gasoline and turns the product out as a substitute for gasoline for automobiles, was in Atlanta Saturday, in connection with a visit to the city.

Mr. Watson says his company has plans now running in Shreveport, Kansas City, Little Rock, Los Angeles, Portland and Denver. The project is said to solve the problem of a substitute for gasoline and Mr. Watson says it has met with success everywhere the company has established plants.

He hopes to interest local capital in the project, and contemplate the erection of a $250,000 plant with a capacity of 50,000 gallons of oil daily.

CONFERENCE MAN PLAZA IDEA IS ASKED FOR

Commerce Chamber Head Urges
W. and A. Commission to Meet
Representatives at Once.

Walter F. Moore, president of the Commerce Chamber, has written the chairman and members of the Western and Atlantic Commission, asking that a conference be arranged between the commission and a committee of three members of the chamber and three members of the City Council, to be named by Mayor Woodward, relative to the project to erect a new terminal station and a plaza over the railroad tracks from Washington street west to Poverty street. He asked that the conference be held as soon as possible.

Mr. Moore said Friday the impression that the chamber and the city will make a proposition to the commission and also that it will endeavor to induce the commission to perfect the plan of the Western and Atlantic to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, is erroneous. He said that, despite all assurances to the contrary, the chamber has made no definite plans looking to the improvement of the project, but must be governed by the wishes of the commission and the Legislature.

"It is the purpose of the committee Mayor Woodward will name," Mr. Moore said, "to ask the commission if a proposition from Atlanta to erect a new station and cover the tracks for plaza purposes will be entertained, what kind of a proposition the commission will entertain and what will be asked of Atlanta in return for the privilege of making the improvement."

"If the commission informs us that it will entertain a proposition, a movement will be begun looking to some plan for the improvement that will be just and fair to Atlanta and the best interests of the State's property."

DALTON, Oct. 24.—Seven hundred pints of whiskey, contraband by freight to Mark Ferguson, was seized at the depot in Ringgold, Calhoun County, by Sheriff Ward, on order of Judge Pitts.

DOUBLE LIFE CHARGED TO EATON BY WIDOW

"Admiral Was Sometimes a Gentleman, and Sometimes Vildest of Vile," Says Woman's Defender.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 24.—Attorney Francis T. Grogan, junior counsel for Mrs. Eaton, widow of Admiral Eaton, in his opening address for the defense rehearsed parts of the story which the accused woman is to tell to the jury from the witness stand.

"We will show you that there was no friction, no misunderstanding on the day when the Admiral was taken sick," he said. "We will show that many misstatements made by Mrs. Eaton about the Admiral have many foundations and facts; that they were not intended for harm and that they were not hallucinations."

"We will show that he had a double life, that sometimes he was a gentleman, other times he was the vilest of the vile. We will show by the testimony of the physicians who attended his first wife and himself in Washington, D. C., that while his first wife was sick and on her deathbed, this man was drunk from morning, noon and night till morning, and although in the very house at the time of the burial of his wife, he was unable to attend, for he was in no condition. In addition to this habit, we will show from the notes we secured with him on the battleship Massachusetts that he had a drug habit."

He said a Boston physician prescribed a tablet containing one hundredth grain of arsenic to Admiral Eaton for stomach trouble. The lawyer also promised to read Admiral Eaton's private letters to the jury to throw further light upon the strange mental and moral make-up of the dead man.

The first witness called was Peter McNally, the famous swimmer, who was a personal friend of Admiral Eaton at the Charleston navy yard. The witness said he had seen Ad-

Negro Clerk Loses Atlanta Postoffice Job He Held 12 Years.

Another shift in the Atlanta post-office service has resulted in the supplanting of L. J. Price, the negro clerk who for the last twelve years has had charge of the South Atlantic station.

W. L. Jones, Jr., was appointed by Postmaster Jones to fill the place, the station having been moved from the intersection of the Jonesboro and McDonough roads, in the heart of the negro district, to the crossing of the Milton and McDonough roads, a white district.

Fifteen years ago, when there was an independent postoffice in South Atlanta, Price was the postmaster. In 1904, when the South Atlanta post-office was made a subsidiary station, Price was appointed clerk in charge, and has retained that post ever since.

Mrs. Getit Gets It From Getit, Then Police Get Getit

GARY, IND., Oct. 24.—Pelle Getit returned to his home at Gary, Ind., with the rather peculiar inquiry as to why his wife had "not got the supper ready." She replied that she had decided to "get it when she got good and ready."

Then, so it is told, she got it from Getit, who got quite perturbed because she was getting what one might term "fresh." Then, so the police were told, he remarked:

"Get the supper, Mrs. Getit, and get it quick. I got to eat. Get me!" Mrs. Getit, it appears, didn't get up the proper speed in getting it, and thereupon got it upon the jaw, ears, nose and other places where prize fighters sometimes get it; so she got out. As for the subject, she left Getit to get it. She told the desk sergeant who got it from her husband and the sergeant told two detectives to get Getit. They got Getit, getting, got-(Note)—The man who started this story fell the need of something and has gone out to get it. Getit got his coat!

The Manicure Lady

"THAT young man came down the street was in his early thirties. He had a fine nose, a good chin, and a pleasant smile. He was a young man, and he was a young man."

"He looks just right," declared the Manicure Lady. "Yesterday was the first time that he ever came to me, and before I had his nails done he had told me the story of his life. I bet you don't guess what he is going to do in New York."

"Is he another playwright?" asked the Head Barber.

"You don't need to spell to know this man," said the Manicure Lady. "I wish you would let that playwright stuff drop. No, this young man has come to me to have his hair cut, and to get into the proper shape to appear where he belongs, anyhow, that's what he told me. I don't know what a social singer is, but that's what Freddie is aiming for. He told me that he was an F. P. V. I thought first that it was some kind of a joke like the I. O. O. F. or the B. P. O. E., but it isn't. F. P. V. means the Families of Virginia, and it seems that when one of them meets another they are drawn together by a genetic bond, or however it is the young man pulled it. He told me that in the small town where he lived it was impossible to spread out, so here he is waiting to play the social game. He said that any young man who was good looking and fairly well educated, and that knew enough to dress right, could break into society if he was patient."

"I guess that is right, George, because even my brother Wilfred broke in. He was kind of a social singer, and he said that it was as easy as breaking into a hotel and rooming house to get into the F. P. V. I bet you don't guess what he is going to do in New York."

Beauty

"Health is the thing that most girls of to-day are sighing for, but they call it beauty."

How can anybody possibly hope to have any kind of good looks upon a poor physical foundation?

Girls of to-day need a foundation for beauty that will stand any test.

By MAUDE MILLER.

"SICK for health not beauty," is a cry that is heard everywhere. Beauty comes of itself along the path where health has paved the way.

Health is the thing that most girls of to-day are sighing for, but they call it beauty. Such foolish girls will not take the trouble to find out the real secret of beauty. How could one possibly hope to have any kind of good looks upon a poor physical foundation? Would the beauty be real and lasting, or would poor physical foundations, like the crumbling head after the slightest exertion.

The Girl Who Is "Knocking"

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

"DID you think a girl who talks about her friends is a girl to trust?"

"My best friend has been talking about me, and now she wonders why I don't want her for a friend any more."

"She says she didn't mean any harm—but somehow I can't feel the same to her."

"Do you blame me? She has been a good friend. She took care of me when I was ill, and once she lent me money; but now—I do not want to think of that."

"What do you think about it all? Talk about you, does she? Well, what crime is that?"

"Who are you that you should be talked about, pray, and what did the 'false friend' say, any how?"

"Did she just say that you were extravagant, or that you dyed your hair, or that the new dress you are so proud of is your last year's success? What of it if she did?"

"Why should she say any or all of these things if they happen to be true?"

"What do you think? Of course you think you ought to tell her now. Think back, 'Older'—you're talking about this friend in particular, in no very particular fashion. So she told you that you were extravagant, or that you dyed your hair, or that the new dress you are so proud of is your last year's success? What of it if she did?"

JOURNEYS

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

OUT in the morning sunlight.

Pulses rise with the joy of life

And veins like the bounding rills;

Every obstacle scoring.

You make for the loftiest height.

Thus do you start in the morning—

And you weary before the night.

Out in your youthful power,

Out and along life's way.

You are awfully whirled by the hard old world.

Yet you deem it nothing but play.

Nearer to fight in the tourney,

Trusting in every friend.

Thus do you start the journey—

And you weary before the end.

Another Stanislaus Tells of Recovery

Those troubles, the continued cough and cold, which seriously affect the lungs, if not treated at once, may lead to pneumonia, which is a dangerous disease, and is sometimes fatal.

Stanislaus, in February, 1911, had a severe cold, which led to a pneumonia, and he was in a very bad way.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS

or worried or vexed at trifles, your vital forces are slowly but surely deteriorating.

Scott's Emulsion overcomes nervousness better than anything else because its nourishing force enriches the blood and stimulates its flow to all the tissues and bathes the tiny nerve cells in the rich plasma by which they are nourished.

Take Scott's Emulsion for your nerves. Its nutritive power is the greatest help that nature affords.

Scott's Emulsion is a pure cod liver oil, and it is the best food for the nerves.

ARRESTS SLAYER FOUND HIDING AT HOME

Thomas Pickett Admits Killing Frank U. Goodwin Near Jacksonville in Drunken Quarrel.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 24. Thomas Pickett, self-confessed murderer of Frank U. Goodwin of Mandarin, was captured in his home to-day at a house of notorious merit by officers of W. H. Bowling and a posse of deputies.

His escape to the course of a road led to the killing. Immediately after his capture Pickett admitted to Sheriff Bowling that he killed Goodwin on the St. Augustine road during a fight with Lorn Pickett, his brother.

When asked to tell of the crime in detail, Pickett said: "You see, for some time past Goodwin, my brother Lorn and myself have been quarreling over the changing of the course of the old Mandarin road. We wanted to have the road changed, and Goodwin, who owned the course property at the crossing of the old road, objected, stating that he had given him a false deed. We had him go to the courthouse yesterday, showing him that he was wrong."

Pickett was drinking. "We had been drinking, Lorn and I. We crossed the river on the ferry together. Goodwin was riding a bicycle. We had our automobile and stopped in South Jacksonville to get some gasoline. As we overtook him the old argument was renewed, and having been drinking heavily, my brother Lorn became irritated and suggested settling the difficulty with his fists. Goodwin seemed willing to fight and got off his wheel. We stopped the machine and both got out. Lorn handed me his pistol, saying that he did not wish to have the gun during the fight."

Shoots to Save Brother. "I took the pistol and intended to see fair play. The two men turned and passed several blows, when Goodwin succeeded in getting the better of the fight and threw Lorn to the road."

"Goodwin jumped on Lorn and was beating him with his fists. I lost my mind for a moment and sprang at Goodwin with the pistol. I leaned over him, as well as I can remember, and shot. I don't know how many times I was afraid he would kill Lorn."

Pickett regrets the killing and says he fears his wife and six children will starve. Lorn Pickett has not been captured.

OLD FOLKS FIND CROXONE RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Few Doses Relieve Backache and Bladder Disorders.

Sleep-disturbing bladder weaknesses, backache, rheumatism and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life.

Croxone relieves all such disorders because it reaches the very cause of the trouble. It works right into the kidneys, through the walls and thence, cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism and makes the kidneys filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of the system.

It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered. Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. There is nothing else like it. It starts to work immediately, and more than a few doses are seldom required to relieve even the most chronic, obstinate case.

An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

A New Discovery.

This man and woman that big, heavy, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat? What gained in weight one ounce that food passed from your body? The material was there, but it was not yours. It was the fat-making material in your body that was eating it up and the strain (truth is you hardly ever eat enough) was making it pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are really out of gear and need reconstruction. We have a new method of rebuilding the nutritive system. It gives the blood the fat-making material it needs to build up the body. It gives the blood the fat-making material it needs to build up the body. It gives the blood the fat-making material it needs to build up the body.

Ogling Starts Fight In Picture Theater; Belligents Fined

W. J. Murray, motion picture show proprietor, and J. N. Bowen, a plumber, were fined $5.75 each by Recorder Boyles Thursday afternoon for fighting before a paid-admission audience in Murray's Whitehall Street Theater Tuesday night.

Murray stated to the court that Bowen was trying to oggle a young woman who sat next to him, and that when Bowen left the theater he (Murray) told Bowen he need not come again. He said that Bowen then called him a liar and struck him. Bowen told a different story. He said he did look at a young woman, but that it was after Murray had been staring at her so long he thought something was the matter with her, so he took a look himself. Then he started out of the theater, he said Murray accused him of oggling.

The fight followed. Recorder Boyles stated that he had known Bowen for 25 years and that he had always looked upon him as a gentleman and upright citizen. He reprimanded Murray for his actions and fined both for fighting.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

The Georgia Federation of Colored Women's Clubs has presented the Railroad Commission a petition that likely will receive the careful attention of that honorable body, and is almost sure to produce results commendable and worth while.

The petition asks better railroad accommodations in Georgia for colored passengers, without in any way suggesting a withdrawal of a single essential feature of the present, regulation arrangements.

The petition asks among other things that the door now separating (usually) the colored compartment from the white smoker be kept closed and that the colored section be provided with more than one lavatory. These colored women, who represent in their federation the best element of negro population in Georgia, do not think that their out-of-section of the ordinary cars used for colored passengers should be made virtually a smoking car, which now it often is, particularly in view of the fact that they are not permitted to use any other car, and they do not believe that it is right for them to be deprived of lavatory privileges, as they now almost invariably are. They hold that the sexes, at least, should be separated in these cars.

Chairman Candler, of the Railroad Commission, believes this petition is in every way worthy of the most serious attention of the commission and he will urge its consideration at the next meeting of the same.

He holds, as does practically every Southern white person, that the races must be separated on the trains, but that the colored passengers, nevertheless, should have reasonable comforts and accommodations while traveling.

Oscar Underwood's forthcoming elevation to the United States Senate being accepted as a foregone conclusion in Washington, Representative William Charles Adamson's friends are boasting him for the Democratic floor leadership in succession to the Alabama.

Mr. Adamson is ranked on the Ways and Means Committee by Representative Kilbuck, and even if he is not named, a Southerner seems destined to win the big plum.

It may be said as a fact, however, that the Adamson boom is a very real and a very live one, and he is looked upon as amply and completely qualified for the job.

Judge Adamson is now the chairman of the great Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, and as such takes a very high stand in the House. He is a veteran in point of service and experience, and many members would like to see him made the party leader on the floor.

Governor John M. Slaton was the guest of honor at the Georgia State Fair in Macon Thursday. The day was especially set aside as "Governor's Day," and was so advertised in all the fair literature.

The Executive was accompanied by a number of his military staff officers and numerous friends.

Besides the Governor and the Atlanta party, there were politicians and statesmen, real and near, from all points of the State, gathered in Macon by special invitation to meet the Chief Magistrate and inspect the fair with him.

Indirectly, the big show is being held under the direction of the State.

and to that extent is peculiarly interesting to the members of the General Assembly.

Chairman Murphy (Candler and Rate Expert Prince Webster leave today for Washington, where they will attend the National Convention of Railroad Commissioners, officially representing the State of Georgia.

This annual gathering brings together in the National Capital a great number of very eminent State officials, and serves as a sort of clearing house for ideas accumulated throughout the nation here and there, with respect to railway management and operation from the standpoint of the various railroad commissions.

Both Mr. Candler and Mr. Webster make it a particular point to attend these meetings, both as a matter of duty and pleasure, for it is strictly in line with both.

The Court of Appeals is working overtime nowadays, seeking to clear its docket before Chief Judge Hill leaves that bench for the newly created position of Superior Court Judge in Fulton.

For a time, an unauthorized rumor that Judge Pottle also was to leave the appeals bench swamped the Governor with applications for that position, but Judge Pottle's positive assertion that he has no idea of leaving the bench any time soon, if at all, has about put a stop to that rumor.

The South Georgia member of the court proposed to remain with it for some time to come, anyway in fact, it is more than likely that he will serve his full term, at least, before retiring.

When Judge Hill steps down and out, Judge Richard H. Russell will become Chief Judge of the court, by right of seniority, as that is the rule on the appeals bench.

With the retirement of Judge Hill, Judge Russell also will become the only member of the original court, as first established, still serving as a member of the same.

The first three members were Judge Hill, Judge Russell and Judge Arthur Powell.

TOURNAMENT FOR CORN SHOW WEEK

At a meeting of the Corn Show committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, Acting Secretary W. L. Leach was requested to call a conference of the officers of the Fifth Infantry Regiment at an early date with a view to arranging for a military tournament or parade while the Corn Show is in progress. As the Auditorium will be occupied at that time by the Southern Chicken Show, other plans will have to be made, and it is for this purpose the conference of the regimental officers will be called one day next week.

The committee arranged to send out invitations to the thousands of members of the boys' corn clubs all over the State, and special invitations will also be sent to county school superintendents and farm home demonstration agents as former corn shows.

An interesting feature of Corn Show week will be an extensive moving picture, entitled "The Town of Youth," in which an interesting story is woven, and will deal with the progress of agriculture from early days to the present. Plans are being made to have it presented either in the Grand Opera House or some other building that will accommodate the boys.

An agreement was made that the Southern Express Company has agreed to transport all exhibits for the corn clubs and the girls' canning clubs at Atlanta free of charge. This will include the canning exhibits at the State Fair in Macon.

The members of the Corn Show committee, all of whom were present, were H. G. Hastings, chairman, J. E. Hodeshauser, Harry C. Pinner, Dr. H. E. Stockbridge and W. H. Leach.

WALTER ANDREWS

Notable Banquet Set for Eve of Atlantan's Departure on Pan- ama Fair Mission

Walter Andrews' appointment as special emissary to the nations of Europe and others lying along the sunny Mediterranean in behalf of the great San Francisco Panama Fair, to be celebrated November 6 with the most notable banquet in the history of Atlanta Bkldoon.

Mr. Andrews is the most prominent Elk in Georgia—perhaps in the South. He is generally given the credit for the present high status of the order in this state. He has been elected No. 78, in recognition of his services, has decided to honor him on the eve of his departure for foreign lands.

He has been twice elected to the Edward Leach, grand exalted ruler of the Elks; Fred Robinson, grand secretary, and John Mitchell, of the Atlanta fair, believed the Elks accept, as Mr. Andrews is well known dom. It has been mentioned for the next grand exalted ruler.

All members of Georgia lodges have been specially invited to be at the banquet, which is to be a very sumptuous affair.

GRAIN NOTES

The Chicago Inter Ocean says: "Gossip on the grain market last night was inclined to be more bearish. Communist houses, who have been bullish on wheat all week, were mostly non-committal, although they have been bullish all the while. The anxiety of the traders was bearish on corn and oats."

Virginia Alumni To Entertain Team Here

Arrangements have been completed by the local alumni of the University of Virginia for entertainment for their football team during their stay in the city before and after the game with Georgia at Ponce DeLeon tomorrow afternoon.

McGoorty-Dillon Go Cinched for Nov. 3

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 24.—All hopes in the Eddie McGoorty-Jack Dillon match, for their scheduled fight at New Orleans, Louisiana, here for November 3, have been dashed by the announcement that the fight will be held in Chicago.

'Spike' Kelly Shades Walters in Fast Go

SUPERIOR, WIS., Oct. 23.—'Spike' Kelly had a slight edge on Billy Walters for ten rounds of hard battling here last night. The boxer called it a draw, but the judges called it a win.

KEOKUK PLAYER IS DRAFTED

KEOKUK, Iowa, Oct. 24.—It was announced today that Sherrard McGuffan, of the local team, would go to Seattle by the draft route.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

By GEORGE E. PHAIR

WINTER. Oh, the long and dreary winter! Oh, the cold and cruel winter! When the baseball players beat it to the full and sweet summer. And the sports hold post mortem on the late lamented season.

For the one to Joseph Taylor, Read Bill Dahlen to the minors. Read Tom Lynch his walking papers and direct me Joe Egan.

Col complains that he has only three pitchers for the world tour, but the Giants went through the World's Series with only one.

It is claimed that the world tour will leave the athletes in poor shape for next season's work, but any man who can survive that trip is tough enough to go through a regular schedule without hitting an eye.

In view of the fact that the George Chip-Knickmatt Brown match will go to the highest bidder, we are willing to take a chance and bid five (5) cents.

Why doesn't Bill Sulzer place him, self under the management of John J. McGraw, one of our greatest manipulators of ivory?

After Tommy Murphy has, may he may learn something of that ancient sport known as boxing.

ANSWER TO QUERY. Fred Kelly: 1908—Harvard 4, Yale 0. 1909—Yale 4, Harvard 0. 1910—Yale 6, Harvard 0. 1911—Yale 6, Harvard 0. 1912—Harvard 20, Yale 0.

The main work this week has been in attempting to find a backfield man of some weight to help out the higher players. A good deal of time has been spent on Taylor, but he had lost so much time with a twisted ankle that it is extremely doubtful if time enough can be spent on him now.

He is very green, but willing, and will be used to advantage somewhere else in the line-up if not in the backfield.

Kearley, who played last year but who has been out with a "charley horse," is also being worked in the backfield. He has a world of speed and considerable experience in varsity football, and he is very apt to make good in this position. He and Taylor may be alternated at end and in the backfield.

It is expected that Auburn will take its full varsity squad to Birmingham.

AUBURN LOOKS FOR HARD GAME WITH MISS. A. M.

Mike Donahue Preparing His Warriors for Tough Battle Saturday Afternoon.

By Mike Donahue.

(Each Auburn Football Eleven.) ATHENS, Ala., Oct. 24.—The last work of the year is the program at Auburn this week in preparation for the coming hard games. So far the games have been preliminary, and only good practice games, but from now on every game is going to be a doubtful proposition.

The game with Mississippi A. & M. in Birmingham Saturday will call for Auburn's full strength, and preparations are being made accordingly.

With the exception of Tilgner and numerous bruises on the part of others the squad came out of the Clemson game in good shape. The Clemson field is the hardest and roughest that Auburn has ever played on, so the bruises were looked for. Tilgner may be out of the Mississippi game, as he has a badly bruised muscle.

The main work this week has been

Vardon and Ray Win Over Western Stars

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, English golf professionals, playing in the Portico golf tournament, easily defeated their opponents in the two eleven-hole matches over the San Francisco Golf and Country Club course yesterday.

During the morning Ray and Vardon defeated the best ball of Frank Clark, Charles Mudd and Paul Hollis, the latter the club professional, 4 up by 5 to 3.

The best ball of the Ray-Hollis match was 66, par for the course being 68. Vardon's individual score was 67.

In the afternoon Vardon and Ray beat the best ball of Harry, John Hayne and "Chapin" Public, 4 up by 5 to 3. Vardon's individual score was 68 and Vardon's 70.

Riverdale Military Academy and Gordon Institute are ready for their battle at Ponce DeLeon tomorrow morning. The game will eliminate one of the other as a contender for the prize title. Jimmie Brown, the former Vanderbilt star, will referee, while Alexander of Tech, has been secured to umpire the struggle.

B. M. S. READY FOR TECH SCHOOL. Junior High school of the local Prep League will tackle the Tech scrubs this afternoon at Grant Field.

Harry High is about the best eleven that the school has produced in several years, and should give the scrubs a tough battle all the way.

COSTELLO IS SWITCHED. WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Captain Harry Costello, star quarterback of the Georgetown University eleven, has been switched permanently to fullback.

R. M. A. Meets Gordon At Ponce DeLeon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Local student was much disturbed today over the report that Manager John J. McGraw had arranged with George Stallings, of the Boston Braves, a swap of Pitcher Rube Marquard for George Tyler, President S. H. Hempted and President James E. Gaffney, owners of the Washington Senators, who were alleged to have been negotiating, possibly showing anything of such a proposition.
